BATES ENDORSES GAFFNEY FOR STATE DELEGATE

Gaffney Gains Momentum

Today Loretta Gaffney, a Republican candidate for State Delegate, proudly announced the endorsement of State Delegate Gail Bates.

“I am proud to have this important endorsement of my candidacy. It shows that we are gaining momentum for a November victory,” said Gaffney.

“Loretta Gaffney is one of the hardest working people I know. She did an outstanding job for me while serving as my executive assistant. Loretta understands the issues and will be able to make positive impact for her district. She will always put people ahead of politics,” said Bates.

Gaffney has been running a very aggressive campaign. She has personally knocked on thousands of doors and called thousands of voters. She has built a large network of grassroots supporters.

Gaffney served for three years as an executive assistant to Delegate Bates. During her tenure she learned how the Assembly operates as well as the key issues. It was during her time in the Assembly that Gaffney realized she needed to run for office. This way she could have an impact on issues close to her heart and to positively change the lives of the people in District 13.

Three weeks ago Gaffney proposed debating each week until the General Election. Each debate would be an hour long, focussing on a specific issue. She believes that debating is the best way for voters to become educated on the differences between all the candidates. So far, she has received no response from the Democrats.

Gaffney is a devoted wife, mother and grandmother. She served in the National Guard and as Delegate Bates’ executive assistant in Annapolis. She understands the job.
